

William H. Bailey

April 12, 2015

William H. Bailey, 67, of Gloversville, died April 12, 2015, at home. Cremation was at Leatherstocking Crematory, Cherry Valley. Urn interment will be at Saratoga National Cemetery at a later date. www.amicofuneralhome.com.

Cemetery Details

Gerald B. H. Solomon Saratoga National Cemetery

200 Duell Road
Schuylerville, NY

Previous Events

Cremation

APR 16 (ET)

Leatherstocking Crematory
22 Church
Cherry Valley, NY 13320

Tribute Wall

LS

“ Liz Szarka lit a candle in memory of William H. Bailey

Liz Szarka - April 22, 2016 at 05:18 PM

SF

“ I met Mr. Bailey over a year ago, when I began working at the Gloversville Public Library. Over that time we had many great discussions regarding everything from engineering to philosophy. Mr. Bailey was a great source of information and creativity. He will be missed very much.

Sally Fancher - April 19, 2015 at 10:07 AM

MC

Bill was a big love of mine off and on for many years. He had vision and a sense of beauty and freedom. He was brilliant and creative and wished for all human beings to be free using his bubble boat, an invention with free source of energy. He is always and ever in my heart.

Marsha Chase

marsha chase - July 19, 2015 at 02:38 PM

My wife, Carol, and I met Bill in Tallahassee in 1968. I have been looking for him frequently online for many years and it is distressing to finally find him here. Here was a brilliant and always interesting person. We had many interesting adventures together...It's disappointing that we were never able to reconnect with him after he left our home in Tampa. The bubbleboat and Marsha are clear evidence that this Bill Bailey is our old friend.

Bob Dougherty

Carol Dougherty - September 22, 2015 at 03:46 PM

LS

I'm just seeing this site now, and I am glad it is here. Bill and I were good friends. We met in 2008, when he picked me up in a taxi in Rockwood, and we immediately clicked. We both knew about the weird topics, conspiracies, quantum physics, metaphysics, "remote viewing," the paranormal, etc. His favorite overnight radio program was "Coast-to-Coast a.m." - which covered all these topics and more. We introduced each other to many interesting books, and we would get together for coffee and discuss them. Sometimes we took day-trips, to Vermont, Saratoga, and the like. Bill was locally known mostly for his ideas for many inventions that would have helped the world ("the big mud-ball," as he called Earth) greatly. He had an intelligent, kind, and beautiful mind. He also had a great brain for engineering...and I happen to know that he has mastered travel in the beyond too! Just ask me (I can be messaged on Facebook). I miss him dearly...as do many of our mutual friends in the neighborhood. See you later, Bill...

Liz Szarka

Liz Szarka - April 22, 2016 at 05:07 PM

MC

Had memorial by the sea in Spain in March with poetry, photos and flowers. Bill you are missed and loved. May you rest in peace.

marsha chase - April 27, 2016 at 03:34 PM