“ Dear Melanie and family

I was so sorry to hear that your dad had died. You know that our history goes back a long way to the days when his dad and my dad worked together at the Gloversville Post Office and then Bill and I also worked there together. I have memories of playing cards at their house when you kids were little and it was so weird when I met you all these years later at the Meco ballpark. I know how much your parents were in love and how tough these years have been for him without your mom. Now you know they are together again and watching over all of you. (Watch what you say and do cause they are watching - LOL) Share any memories you may have with each other and you will keep them alive in your hearts by doing that. Your dad was a good man who will be missed by all who knew and loved him.

Remember what I told you - cry if you want - talk about your parent - if you get someone who doesn't want to listen then move on to the next person. The pain you are feeling right now will get different and you will be okay - it won't get better - just different but one of the best ways to deal with it is to talk about any and every memory you have. My thoughts and hugs go out to all of you and one last time Mel - IT IS OKAY TO CRY!!!!

I also have to tell you that I love the picture you put in the paper - I will always remember that shit-eating grin of your fathers and the picture was the Bill I knew.

Love

*Nancy Hulbert

“ I worked with Bill's wife Robin at MCA Records in the 80's and I knew they were very close and her and Bill thought the world of each other. My sympathy to their children and grandchildren and the rest of their family.
